(54) Title: SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR LATENT FILM RECOVERY IN ELECTRONIC FILM DEVELOPMENT
(57) Abstract  Recovering the dye image on film in electronic film development following a latent holding stage obviates the problem common in prior art electronic film development of film image destruction. Recovery of the image is accomplished using a developing agent containing couplers to form a dye image. These dyes do not affect the infrared scans of the image. Upon complete development of the dye image, further dye formation is halted by the application of a coupler blocking agent, while silver development and electronic scanning may continue or halt. After halting dye formation, the film is stable for an arbitrary time in a latent stage and may be dried and stored. Following this latent stage, silver is removed from the film with a bleach-fix leaving a conventionally usable film image.

INTERNATIONAL SEARCH REPORT

International application No.

PCT/US98/01727

Box I Observations where certain claims were found unsearchable (Continuation of Item 1 of first sheet)

This international report has not been established in respect of certain claims under Article 17(2)(a) for the following reasons:

1. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they relate to subject matter not required to be searched by this Authority, namely:
2. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they relate to parts of the international application that do not comply with the prescribed requirements to such an extent that no meaningful international search can be carried out, specifically:
3. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they are dependent claims and are not drafted in accordance with the second and third sentences of Rule 6.4(a).

Box II Observations where unity of invention is lacking (Continuation of item 2 of first sheet)

This International Searching Authority found multiple inventions in this international application, as follows:

Please See Extra Sheet.

1. ☒ As all required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this international search report covers all searchable claims.
2. ☐ As all searchable claims could be searched without effort justifying an additional fee, this Authority did not invite payment of any additional fee.
3. ☐ As only some of the required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this international search report covers only those claims for which fees were paid, specifically claims Nos.:
4. ☐ No required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant. Consequently, this international search report is restricted to the invention first mentioned in the claims; it is covered by claims Nos.:

Remark on Protest

☐

The additional search fees were accompanied by the applicant's protest.

No protest accompanied the payment of additional search fees.

A. CLASSIFICATION OF SUBJECT MATTER: IPC (6):

G03C 7/30, 7/407, 11/16; G03D 3/00, 15/02; H04N 1/04, 1/46

BOX II. OBSERVATIONS WHERE UNITY OF INVENTION WAS LACKING

This ISA found multiple inventions as follows:

Group I, claims 1-20 and 23-33, drawn to a method for latent film recovery and for use with an apparatus.

Group II, claims 21-22, drawn to another distinctive method for a latent film recovery.

Group III, claim 34, drawn to another distinctive apparatus.

The inventions listed as Groups I, II and III do not relate to a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical steps in the methods or features in the apparatus for the following reasons: (1) The main invention with respect to the method claims 1-20 requires (a) the use of the specific first developing agent containing a coupler and (b) a selected light for an illumination as compared to the distinctive method claims 21-22 which is distinctively required (a) the use of the specific first developing agent containing no coupler and (b) a coupler being applied in a later step. (2) The main invention with respect to the apparatus claims 23-33 requires (a) feed spool and (b) a coupler in activation station as compared to the distinctive apparatus claims 34 which is distinctively required (a) a means for applying the specific first developing agent containing no coupler and (b) a means for separately applying a coupler. Accordingly, each of the above inventions has acquired its own distinctively inventive steps and features. None of them is so linked to be or form a single inventive concept which is considered to be an obvious variation in the art that would be required no separate consideration or search in the art for the distinctive invention as divided by applicants in accordance with PCT Rule 13.1 and 13.2.
